McGILL MAN ATTACKED IN RESTAURANT

Lawrence Rochester, Sci. '23, Victim of Unprovoked Assault.

ROBBERY MOTIVE.

Assailant Captured By Students after Short Chase

Attacked from behind while standing in the washroom of Child's Peel street restaurant, Lawrence Rochester, Sci. '23 was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital late last night suffering from several scalp wounds as well as bruises on his arms. His assailant is now under police custody and will appear in the court this morning to answer to a charge of assault which has been laid against him.

A group of students had been having their nightly supper in the restaurant when the unfortunate victim of the assault left for a few minutes to go to the washroom. He did not notice anyone standing about when he entered the place, but, as he bent over the washbowl, he suddenly received a severe blow on the head with a small axe that was apparently wrapped in paper to conceal it. Stunned, he scarcely had time to turn around before he received several more blows on the head and one on the arm, as he lifted it toward of the attack.

His assailant seemed to be aghast at his own action for he quickly slipped up the stairs and out of the restaurant unnoticed. The appearance of Rochester as he staggered up to the main floor of the building quickly brough a crowd to his side and, when he related the story of the attack as best he could, his companions immediately left to give chase to the fast disappearing fugitive.

By the time they had caught sight of him he was well on his way across Dominion Square in the direction of Dorchester street and disappeared in the darkness. A short search of the vicinity by the students who had pursued him disclosed the fact that he was hiding behind one of the pillars of St. James Cathedral. He made no resistance when he saw that the numbers pursuing him would make such action useless and proceeded quietly to the Police Station at the corner of Guy and St. Catherine streets.

When captured he did not have the axe, having apparently thrown it away when he saw that he was being followed but a search by the police revealed the fact that he had a bunch of skeleton keys in his pocket.

He said that he was married and out of work and was badly in need of money.

SNOWSHOE CLUB PLANS PROGRAM

Teams for Local and Collegiate Meets.

The executive of the Snowshoe Club is only awaiting a good fall of snow to begin their programme of activities for the season. Unless an unexpected storm brings this necessity within a very short time nothing will be done before Christmas.

There will be several meets in Montreal and one in the States for snowshoers from this college. The first will be the Quebec Championship, and another the McGill winter carnival in February. There will in all likelihood be various other local meets arranged, so that snowshoers will have plenty of opportunities to do their best in this healthy sport. The Ski Club will leave early in the new year on their annual trip to Dartmouth University to take part in the ski meet. Last winter the Students' Council decided to finance two snowshoers to join the skiing team. This will in all probability be the case this winter. Therefore there is a good object to urge on all interested in snowshoeing.

It will be arranged that the men of the first two years obtain their gym attendance while turning out with the club both for the 100 and 200 yard events and the distance races.

During the opening days of the new term a social tramp will be held when men and women students will have an equal chance to enjoy this old time winter activity. Last year these tramps were held from the Union. All those who were present at any of them will remember the refreshments put up by the Union Cafeteria and also the hour of dancing in the Lounge Room.

All are reminded to bring their snowshoes and moccasins with them when they return to college after the Christmas holidays.

INTERESTING PAPERS READ LAST NIGHT

Second Regular Meeting of Historians.

WELL PRESENTED.

Egerton and Jones Spoke on Conservative and Liberal Parties Respectively

Two very interesting papers were read at the second regular meeting of the Historical Club held last evening at Strathcona Hall, the President, F. W. Walter being in the chair. The subject under discussion was the history of the two chief political parties in Canada. An excellent paper was read by N. Egerton who traced the history of the Conservative party, which was followed by the history of the Liberal party, ably delivered by R. K. Jones.

At the outset, Egerton stated that there were few concise outlines of the chronological past of either party, and that a brief survey of the history of Canada from the beginning of British rule was deemed necessary. He traced the history of Canada from the governorship of General James Murray to the institution of the legislatures by the Constitutional Act of 1791. From that date onward the development of the various political groups began to take place, and by 1824 the Radicals or Liberals secured a majority in the popular assembly in Upper Canada, thus marking the real beginning of party distinction. From the Liberal efforts at reform in 1838 to the achievement of Confederation in 1867, and from the latter date to the present day political situation was carefully covered.

The second speaker, R. K. Jones, in an equally interesting paper, displayed marked preference for the Liberal party and following a short sketch of Canadian history after 1763, traced the origin of the Liberal party to the efforts of the Radicals to overriding the Family Compact, and establish more representative rule. The speaker asserted that the Liberals had always stood for progress and democracy while the Conservatives had adhered to the old order of things. He, as well as the first speaker, touched on the present political situation, claiming that Premier-Elect King would succeed in forming a government that would strive for Canada's prosperity.

The presence of Professor Basil Williams and Dr. C. E. Fryer was much appreciated, and following the refreshments, together with the student members of the Club, they entered on an interesting discussion of the two parties in question, which developed into an animated talk on current affairs, especially the recent development in the Irish situation.

DR. McKENZIE GIVES SPORTS ANALYSIS

McGill Grad. Gathers Statistics at Penn.

(This article was written by Dr. R. Tait McKenzie, well known McGill Graduate physical director at the University of Pennsylvania, for the daily publication of that institution.)

Among the questions on the blank familiar to every Freshman when he takes his physical examination on entering Pennsylvania is one which reads: "What sports or games have you practiced."

An analsys of the answers to this question will surprise most readers of The Pennsylvanian.

The first 1,000 examinations of the Freshman class were taken, and it was found that baseball easily leads with 397. No doubt, this includes not only prep school baseball, but also the brand of game that is played on the back lots, but it shows the popularity of the national game.

CHARTER FOR R.V.C. MAY BE GRANTED

Governors Announce Probability of Such Action.

CORPORATION MEETS.

Many Improvements Will be Considered by the Board.

It is highly probable that a Royal Charter will be secured in the near future for the Royal Victoria College, as the Federal and Provincial Governments have agreed to offer no objections to such action. This was made known by the Board of Governors yesterday at a meeting of the Corporation of the University at which the principal, Sir Arthur Currie presided.

The two newly elected representatives of the Graduates in Arts and Applied Science respectively, namely, Mr. Walter Molson of Arts 1904, and Mr. Homer Jacquays of Applied Science 1896 were present and were accorded a hearty welcome by the Principal.

The Acting-Dean of the faculty of Arts, Dr James Harkness, informed the Corporation that the Faculty are considering the advisability of modifying the curriculum with a view to increasing the facilities for higher scholarship in the upper years.

Dean Adams, in presenting the report for the Faculty of Applied Science, laid stress on the advisability of using a portion of the income from the Mrs. E. B. Eddy bequest for the establishment of a Chair in Industrial Chemistry or Chemical Engineering, and it was decided on his motion, seconded by Dr. Ruttan, to make this recommendation to the Board of Governors.

Dr. Thornton Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry, announced that the new wing to the Montreal General Hospital, which is being built expressly for the Dental Clinic, is nearing completion, and that it will be ready for occupation after Christmas.

Dean Perrin of the Faculty of Music, reported that there was a slight increase over the attendance of last year, there being 223 registered, including 77 junior partials. He also informed the meeting of an increase in the number of candidates examined last May and June with a corresponding increase in the amount of fees received. Prospective changes in the staff were also noted. Mr. Egerton has resigned to take a position in Winnipeg next month, and Miss Duncan, violin teacher, and Miss Kenwrick, piano teacher, are also resigning. He also pointed out that the proceeds of the orchestral concerts are applied to form a fund, the interest of which in

PROF. TAIT SPEAKS ON CURRICULUM

Alpha Omega Alpha Fraternity Holds Meeting.

The December meeting of the Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Fraternity was held last night in the Union Grill room. Supper was served at 7 o'clock, and it is to be regretted that so few of the members were present

The address of the evening was delivered by Prof. John Tait, of the department of Physiology, on "The Making of a Medical Curriculum." This interesting subject was discussed in a broad and comprehensive manner, the European and American University systems being explained. McGill was found to be influenced by both systems, and the speaker outlined a course of improvement by which the Canadian school might progress and yet keep its best ideals intact. A definite change in policy is indicated, if not demanded, but it is questionable whether any existing system can be effectually applied to McGill.

The discussion following the address was led by the undergraduate members, the honorary members following, and a summary was presented by Dr. Tait.

It is sincerely hoped that more of the members will be able to attend meetings in the future, both for their own pleasure and instruction, and as a courtesy to the speaker.

COLLEGE AND FACULTY SPIRIT.

A healthy faculty spirit seems to have been developed at McGill during the past few years. In the purely college competitions the students of the various faculties have turned out and supported their representatives in just as enthusiastic a fashion as they would their 'Varsity teams in an intercollegiate contest.

McGill has always been noted for the manner in which the undergraduates turned out in a body whenever men or women from the university were competing with representatives from other colleges. As a matter of fact, the university spirit has had much to do with the success of the college teams when pitted against aggregations which had come from universities that were much stronger numerically. The fact that a student was in one or other of the faculties has never been considered as long as he was wearing the Red and White colours.

It is possible, however, to develop the university spirit to such an extent that it will be a detriment instead of a help to the student activities. Whereas a wholesome college spirit is admirable when intercollegiate contests are being held, a faculty spirit can do much in paving the way for the teams in their preparation for the larger contests later in the year.

Of course, nothing is less to be desired than a condition of affairs whereby the faculty spirit would become so great as to threaten to outdo the idea that the university is to be always given the first consideration. This tendency has always been combatted by us even to the extent of absolutely refusing to allow school or faculty departments in the college paper, or to give any one department of the university privileges that were not accorded to the others.

There is a happy medium, and it appears as if it were the case here at the present time. The college leagues have proved that faculty spirit is not dead, and the spirit at the intercollegiate contests certainly is not lacking.

The Editor
McGill Daily.

Sir,—To-morrow evening, Thursday, December 15th, there is scheduled to take place a meeting of representatives of the various sectional clubs in existence at our university. Should nothing further be accomplished than that of bringing the executives of the various clubs together to discuss mutual problems, the meeting will have been a good thing. There is little doubt, however, but that something new will come of this unique departure, and the members of the several clubs will await with interest the result of the deliberations.

It seems apparent that the chief object of the meeting is to discuss the feasibility of a combined Sectional Club dance, and in order to promote interest in the affair several letters have appeared in recent issues of the "Daily," favoring the project.

Last year, as a member of The Maritime Club, I assisted in promoting The Maritime Western Dance. The executives of both clubs were rather diffident about the success of such a precedent, but the only regret in the end was that more members could not have been there.

This, to my mind, will tend to make impossible the present contemplated Sectional Club dance.

There are seven flourishing sectional clubs in our university, with a membership of approximately six hundred. The ball room of the Union can accommodate only one hundred and fifty couples at the utmost. This means that about 15 per cent. of the club members would be privileged to attend a joint-club dance.

Again, there are in all clubs a great many men who do not dance, and whom, I am sure, would be keenly disappointed at being debarred from such a gathering.

I sincerely hope that those in attendance at to-morrow's meeting will consider some other function such as a skating party, a snowshoe hike or even a sleigh drive.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space for this,

Yours faithfully,
LEITH H. WEBSTER.

INTERMEDIATE "B" TRIMS WESTMOUNT

W.A.A.A. Beaten by McGill by Score of 34—14

Last night at Molson Hall the Intermediate "B" Basketball team defeated W. A. A. A. to the tune of 34 to 14.

The play, though not brilliant, was snappy throughout, especially in the second half, when with the score 17 to 9 in favor of McGill, Westmount made a desperate attempt to overcome the collegians' lead. The issue, however, was never for a moment in doubt as the Red and White led from the very first. Their shooting was more accurate than that of their opponents, while they were guilty of fewer errors. Both teams crowded a great deal, violent collisions being frequent. James, of McGill, who opened the scoring, was unquestionably the best player on the floor, intercepting the ball and getting it into the basket time after time. Rafolovitch and Rourke at defence ably seconded his efforts by blocking the purple and white forwards and not giving them a chance to score. For the losers, Grace starred. His shooting— when he was given the opportunity—was deadly, but he was greatly hampered by the attentions of his shadow—Rafolovitch—who persistently dogged him all over the floor.

The line-up was as follows:—

McGill	W. A. A. A.
Forwards
Powell	Grace
James	Wood
Centre
Tinkess	Pinkney
Defence
Rourke	Seaman
Rafolovitch	Davis

McGILL JUNIORS WIN CLOSE GAME

Defeat North Branch Y. M. C. A. in Basketball. 33—31.

The junior basketball season got away to a flying start last night at the North Branch Y.M.C.A., when the Junior A's of McGill tallied 33 points to 31 of the North Branch.

Walker started his peerless shots by scoring three fouls in the first few minutes of play, and followed with eight more points in the first half. Brown starred for the North Branch throughout the entire game, While the team-work displayed by the Juniors did not equal that of the opposing side, they did remarkably well for a team playing together for the first time.

Yanovitch and Levy were substituted for Snyder and Conners respectively, and the half ended one point in favor of North Branch.

The second half started off with a rush, North Branch scoring five points in a row. McGill did not seem quite sure of herself, and missed the basket three tries in the next few minutes. Before the second period was half over, however, Levy had scored six points. This started a rally, and Walker added eight more points to the score. In the last few minutes Silver shot a field goal.

Conners and Snyder came back for the last six minutes of play, which bucked up the team considerably. What the Junior A's need is better work on the defensive. This will manifest itself later on, no doubt, after they become accustomed to playing together.

Ellicot and Brown, of North Branch, deserve special mention for their good work and speed.

The line-up was as follows:

McGill.	N.B.Y.M.C.A.
Forwards.
Silver (6)	Brown (14)
Conners	Bennett (11)
Centre.
Walker (19)	Ellicot (6)
Guards.
Snyder	Boon
Altner (2)	Hart
Spares.
Levy (6)
Yanovitch.

PEPYS AT McGILL

Wednesday, Dec. 14th. All about the colleges this day much talk of the coming abatement of all discourses for the period of Christmastide and the New Year, and never before did I better discover how great a number of my fellowes dwelt in little country hamlets hereabout, so all their talk is of a joycus home-coming and of the munching of sundry mince-pies about the glowing Yule-log together with all the other pleasures which our Lord Principall did so glowingly portray in the red-colored newes-sheet writ by the women students a while since. This day I came home to my lodgings with the utmost stealth but a little after noon, intending to put an end to the wretched stealing of my bottled ale, which has plagued me sorely this se-ennight gone by. So coming in I laid myself out under my couch on my stomach, and there bade by time scarce daring to draw breath into my lungs. By and by came a stealthy step outside the portal of my chamber, and in comes the shock-headed rogue from across the hall to take of my ale without so much as a "by-your-leave-sir;" and presently I rose out of my place of hiding all covered with dust to the brows and wrenching a chaste engraving of a certain one of my landlady's ancestors (and a right ugly one) from the wall, I made at him with a roar like a bull; he making off with such a comickall expression of terror as I never did see. So laughing and chucking to myself all that night, and drinking of the good, cool ale that the rogue made not away with, and so content to bed.

McGILL POLOISTS PREPARE FOR TRIP

Played Exhibition Game Last night.

The English water polo exhibition game between McGill and M.A.A.A. was played last night at the M.A.A.A. tank. The M.A.A.A. came out victorious by the score of 9—7.

The game was played chiefly for the purpose of giving the McGill team a final practice in the English game, which they have played very little of, before leaving here to battle against the Brown champions at New York next week.

The English game differs vastly from that of the American. The goals are far larger than those used in American water polo, nor are the goals the same size, the area of the goal at the shallow end being about twice the size of the one at the deep end, due to the fact that a goal keeper can stop a ball easier at the shallow end than at the deep end. The ball is about an inch smaller than the standard American ball, and heavier. A player cannot stop the ball with his feet on bottom (except the goal-keeper), nor can he hit the ball on the fly with his fist. Underwater swimming is strictly against the English rules, and there is only two periods of play in the game.

The two teams were very evenly matched, and played an excellent game in spite of the fact that they have played very little of the English game, although the referee was forced to check up members of both teams for catching the ball with their feet on bottom.

The student body of McGill University, at Montreal, looks forward with keen enthusiasm to the aquatic meet between her team and those of our cousins across the line. McGill will clash with Columbia and the N. Y. A. C. in New York, and Brown in Providence. The American teams are of the very best and the results are expected to be very close.

The men who are to represent McGill in the American tour are: Vernot, Fisk, Parsons, Laidley, Munro, Ross and Laishley. The first five men in representing McGill last year were champions in the Canadian Intercollegiate meet. In New York Vernot will swim in the long distance races, Ross a new short distance swimmer in the 50 and 100 yards; Fisk and Munro in the back stroke; Parsons plunge, and Laidley diving and breast stroke.

It is sincerely regretted that Roy Foss will not be able to accompany the team, due to his recent illness.

ECONOMIC CLUB HEARS GOOD PAPERS

Basis of Representation and Soviet System—Topics

WELL PRESENTED.

Willard and Puddicombe.

Political Economy meeting started last night with gloomy prospects, as so many of the students were occupied with other activities. S. D. Pierce the president was unable to be present and P. N. Addy, the vice-president took the chair. At the last minute however, quite a number of men appeared and the meeting was a success from start to finish.

The papers of the evening dealt with the "Basis of Representation." The subject was handled by G. B. Puddicombe Arts '23 and E. W. Willard also Arts' '23.

Mr. Puddicombe was the first speaker and to quote his opening sentence. "This paper on territorial representation is given with the primary object of affording a view-point from which one may perceive the system set forth in the succeeding paper in the light of comparison." He pointed out in a few words the advancement of mankind which made democracy a natural growth from, an outlet for his political ideas. The usual system is representation from constituencies with a basis of population irrespective of the class of people in the districts. However the first British Parliament was really a soviet system with class representation although it was not recognized as such. He then pointed out in a few words how our Federal House is elected as well as the provincial municipal bodies. He added that the advantage of our system is that the member knows his electoral district very well and is dependent on them for his election, whereas in a pyramiding system the appointee may be little known or know little of the feelings of the electorate.

Willard then dealt with the Soviet system as at present in force in Russia. His opening sentence is also worth quotation: "In discussing the Soviet the big thing to remember is that the term Soviet implies not a political party but a system of government and that it is not in the least synonymous with Bolsheviki." He showed that is is really a logical and practicable form of government and one which has found great favour among the Russians. It is a type of organization through which the Bolsheviki got their hold on the people although few of the people are really Communists. Its essential distinguishing features are election by industrial units, election by an electorate of workers manual or mental. They say that those who do the work should do the governing. At first it worked well but its failure is due to political reasons.

The whole system is a pyramid. The foundation is the village soviet of from three to fifty members. The next grade is the Volast which represents a township of villages. The next grade upward is the Uyezd. Then we find the Provincial Soviet or Gubernia. The last is the All-Russian Congress which meets twice a year to transact the business of the nation. Willard showed that the system failed because the world outside of Russia looked down on it and the Bolshevik control. In time and with a fair trial it would probably work out well.

Both papers were well delivered but as the paper of Willard dealt with a subject so novel that the discussion took the form of questions put to Willard who answered so well that Dr. Hemmem complimented him upon it and also added a few words on the subject of the Soviet. The meeting broke up about ten-thirty

A TRADITIONLESS COLLEGE.

A good many people complain about the results of college education and the time lost in what is known as college "life" as distinguished from college work. A good many colleges would try reforms, moreover, were it not for the weight of "traditions" and the opposition of more or less obscurantist alumni.

Suppose some one should say to you—"Here are a couple of millions of dollars. Go ahead and start a college. There are no alumni to hold you back, and as for traditions, you can begin at theg round and make your own!"

Roughly, this was what happened to Dr. William Trufant Foster, about ten years ago, when he was asked to start a college at Portland, Oregon. Reed College is the result—an attractive little institution looking down on Portland and the Willamette River from one of the outlying hills.

Reed doesn't need to worry about making itself so fascinating that the "prep" school football stars will go nowhere else. It has no intercollegiate athletics, but compulsory intramural exercise and sports for all students able to take part. It has neither fraternities nor sororites. And it has stoutly refused to grow any faster than its equipment and teaching staff would justify.

But Reed has flourished, nevertheless. It has maintained the accent on scholarship with which it started and its students appear to be regular boys and girls, like any others.

There is a real place for "small" colleges of this sort in cities of over 200,000 inhabitants, and there ought to be more of them.—Leslie's Magazine.

THEOLOGS DISCUSS ARTS EDUCATION

Value of Academics Course Subject of Debate.

The Diocesan Convocation Hall was the scene of a very interesting and keenly contested debate on Wednesday night. This debate was interesting for two reasons. Firstly, because each speaker represented a different part of the British Empire; and secondly, because the subject debated is of great interest to each man who intends to take Holy Orders. The subject of the debate was: Resolved—"That a degree in Arts be compulsory for all intending Theological students."

Messrs. C. Fielding and Butler supported the affirmative by advancing the argument that it is necessary for every Christian priest to obtain a good education in order to maintain the great traditions handed down to them. They claimed that it is impossible for a man to live up to this high standard and to fulfill certain theological requirements, if he has only a theological education.

Moreover, it is difficult for a man to answer the question of the modern congregation without an education equal to the education of the average person in the congregation.

Messrs. S M. A. Lenan and G. Cooney spoke on the negative side. They maintained that a university education was not necessary for a clergyman, for the people of to-day do not depend upon the clergy for explanations of everyday occurrence. Therefore the Church wants men who are well-informed on theological questions rather than men who are not particularly in any branch of learning.

The debate ended, the judges withdrew to decide which side had the better arguments. After a considerable time, they returned with careworn faces to inform the audience that the affirmative had won the honours of the evening.

NOW WE KNOW.

"You're concealing something from me," said the villian as the herione combed the hair down over her ears.

SONNETEERING.

I know the knobby lumps above the ear
That girls are prone to think are luring style;
I like the vapid chatter that I hear,
Although it misses sense about a mile.

I think the dresses that the ladies wear
Are just about as cute as they can be;
And tho they make her legal hindrance swear,
They give the other men delight to see.

It seems to be Dame Fashion's one ambish
To make the dresses more and more deplete;
And if long life is mine ,as is my wish,
I hope to live to see the job complete.

BOXERS SHOW GAMENESS IN SEMI-FINALS

Medicine Qualifies Five Men for Finals.

FAST BOUTS.

Sir Arthur Currie Present Tonight at Finals.

That boxing is a man's game was demonstrated last night by the semi-final Interfaculty Championship bouts held in the ball room of the Union. The success of the evening was marked by the entire absence of stalling, and the gameness displayed by the men, who lost no opportunity of driving their punches home.

It would be difficult to say which of the twelve bouts was the best, but special mention should be made of the exceptional exhibition of gameness shown in the bout between Graham, of Science, and Hutcheson, of Arts.

The bout got away to a whirlwind start, which brought the spectators to their feet. In the first two rounds the men showed equal ability, but Graham's superior condition earned him the decision in the last round.

There was one extra round in the contest between Schleifer, of Arts, and Sharpe, of Science. Both men were evenly matched, and it was only in the fourth round thta Schleifer gained the victory.

Another good bout was that between Boucher, Medicine, and Wilson, of Commerce. The latter, although floored in the second round, came back strong in the third round, and landed more often than his opponent. Bouchers' hard hitting, however, won him the fight.

Goldapple, Commerce, and Fullerton, Medicine, staged a game contest in the bantamweight class. As a boxer Fullerton had perhaps the edge, but of Goldapple's fighting ability there can be no question, and he succeeded in carrying off a well-earned victory.

E. D. B. Charles, who won in the welterweight class, gave a fine exhibition of blocking and dodging, and his showing was very gratifying in that he has shown perhaps more than anyone else the benefits which he has derived from this year's coaching.

Martineau, Arts, and Phillpots, Medicine, showed what could be done by hard hitting. Martineau's hay-making right chop proved too much for the very plucky football star. Phillpots, although floored for a short count, came back for more, and his straight left caused his opponent many anxious moments.

The Club was glad to notice that an interest is being taken in this branch of sport by at least one member of the R.V.C., and they wish to extend a cordial invitation to all the other co-eds who have turned out, to support the McGill teams in football and hockey.

Science vs. Arts.

110 lbs.—J. M. Sharpe vs. Schleifer. Won by Schleifer.

118 lbs.—F. W. Wilson vs. L. Stiene. Won by Wilson.

125 lbs.—G. P. Graham vs. H. Hutchison. Won by Graham.

135 lbs.—G. M. Merritt vs. F. C. Cape. Won by Cape.

145 lbs.—C. H. Champion vs. Gardener. Won by Gardener.

158 lbs.—G. R. McGregor vs. M. Abinovitch. Won by Abinovitch by default.

175 lbs.—Phillpots (Med.), vs. E. Martineau. oWn by Martineau.

Commerce vs. Medicine.

110 lbs.—G. E. Cody vs. S: Mirsky. Won by Mirsky.

115 lbs.—M. Negru vs. V. A. Snow. Won by Snow.

118 lbs.—J. Goldapple vs. C. W. Fullerton. Won by Goldapple.

135 lbs.—J. R. Simpson vs. J. R. Sullivan. Won by Sullivan.

145 lbs.—A. G. Smith vs E. D. B. Charles. Won by Charles.

158 lbs.—R. Wilson vs. H. H. Boucher. Won by Boucher.

From the above results it will be seen thta Medicine so far has taken a lead in the inter-faculty eliminations, securing five victories. Arts second with four, Science three, and Commerce one.

The finals will be held to-night, the complete programme of which is given below. Smith, the Macdonald College Star light heavyweight, will box Martineau for the honours in that class.

The programme includes six wrestling bouts staged between some of McGill's champions, and their numerous runners-up, and will be a great drawing card.

Walter and Fielding, the old rivals with the foils, should prove interesting, as the bout will be decided on points.

The executive is very glad to be able to announce that Sir Arthur Currie will be at the entertainment, and has consented to present the medals so kindly offered by Mr. Walter Molson, to the winners of the Inter-faculty boxing competition. Mr. E. W. Beatty, Chancellor of the University, will be amongst the guests of honour.

Sergt.-Major Sharpe, of Ste. Annes, and Jack McBrearty, will act as boxing judges, while "Ernie" Robinson will refereee the boxing and Coach George Smith the wrestling bouts.

The following is the programme of to-night's events:—

1.—Fencing: Fielding vs. Walter.

2.—118 lbs. Wrestling: Pfeiffer, Med. I. vs. McDonald, Med. II.

3.—125 lbs. Wrestling: H. Reid, Sc. III. vs. Mathews, Med. III.

4.—108 lbs. Boxing iFnal: S. Mirsky, Med. III. vs. S. Schleifer, Arts I.

5.—118 lbs. Boxing Final: F. W. Wilson vs. J. Goldapple, Com. I.

6.—135 lbs. Wrestling: Irvine, Sc. vs. Howes, Med.

7.—145 lbs. Wrestling: Cohen, Law II. vs. Brisbane, Sc. III.

8.—125 lb. Boxing Final: Graham, Sc. III. vs. Snow, Med. I.

9.—135 lb. Boxing Final: Sullivan, Med. III. vs. Cape, Arts II.

10.—150 lbs. Wrestling: Armstrong, Sc. III. vs. Bain, P. G.

11.—145 lbs. Boxing Final: Charles, Med. II. vs. Champion, Sc. III.

12.—175 lbs. Final: Martineau, Arts II vs. Smith, Macdonald College.

13.—158 lbs. Boxing Final: M. Abinovitch, Arts I. vs. H. H. Boucher, Med. II.

INTERMEDIATE "A" BEATS MacDONALD

Basketball Game Ends Score of 45—23

Last night McGill Intermediate "A" basketball team defeated the Macdonald College team by a score of 45—23. The game throughout was fast and clean, though both teams showed early season defects. Shooting has not yet reached mid-season form, but is satisfactory for the first game of the season.

For Macdonald Winter was the most effective and consistent scorer, while Templeton ran him a close second.

Play in the first half was fairly evenly divided. McGill was showing combination, but was losing it at times. The shooting was inaccurate, and this was costing McGill many points. Macdonald was checking with only moderate effect, as McGill was shooting three times to Macdonald's one, but missing shot after shot. Winter was a sure ma when he got away, but this was inrequent. As the period progress Macdonald began to let the McGill men get away from them, and the forwards, unchecked, began to score regularly. Amaron went on at centre for Greenblatt, and did his share of the scoring. Play tended now to become faster, and somewhat looser. Graham replaced Sutherland.

Half-time score 25—16 for McGill.

In the second half McGill continued hard, fast play, while Macdonald weakened. Shortly after the opening of play, James suffered an unfortunate accident, due to a stumble. Schwartzman was moved to forward, Starke centre, Amaron and Blumenstein defence. Schwartzman played a good game in this new position. Scharfe continued his effective play, though his check was allowing him fewer chances. Macdonald's play grew ragged toward the end of the game. Their passes were miscarrying and their checking was failing. McGill was playing an aggressive game with four men forward, Amaron checking back when necessary. The speed was telling on the men, with McGill in better condition, and showing more team play. The whistle blew with McGill in the lead, 45 to 23.

USE OF KNICKERBOCKERS BY CO-EDS AT WISCONSIN RECEIVES COMMENDATION

University of Wisconsin.—Knickerbockers have been adopted as the prevailing style for young ladies here. Members of the Delta Delta Delta sorority recently appeared on the campus dressed in knickerbocker, waist, and jacket costumes. They attended classes, strolled about the campus and conducted themselves in their usual manner. General commendation was extended to them by the whole campus for the inauguration of the new and comfortable style.

STUDENT INFLUENCE.

Student influence throughout the country will be pressed into use as the Disarmament Conference at Washington progresses in its work. A movement has gained momentum among numerous colleges and universities for united action on the part of students in favor of disarmament. The idea originated at Prnceton, where it was received with enthusiasm by the students. Other eastern universities came to the support of the movement.

In 1920 the hens of Kansas alone produced a sum that represented more than twice the amount needed to pay for the Louisiana Purchase.

"Another spasm over with," said the doctor to the nurse as the patient quieted down and began to snore.

McGILL WINS OPENER IN BASKETBALL

Manson Scores Over Half McGill's Points.

40—31.

M.A.A.A. Blues Overpowered in Second Half of Fast Game.

McGill won from M. A. A. A. "Blues" by a score of 40 to 13 in the opening game in the Senior City League series, last night. In the first half McGill did not show to advantage but in the second stanza a real team took the floor and ran away from M. A. A. A. in an easy fashion, McGill worked hard for the victory and fully deserved it both on the combination play, and the individual efforts of the players. Manson was in the right place all the time, and shot beautifully. Hay made several spectacular shots, and accounted for a good part of the score. For M. A. A. A. Glickman played the best game but was watched closely in the second period, and prevented from scoring heavily.

After some good combination by M. A. A. A. at the start, Johnson sent a long shot straight into the basket. Holloway followed a minute later with a second. Laishley went on for Brown. McGill was shooting more frequently than their opponents, but without effect. The game was fast, and M. A. A. A. kept fairly effective control of the ball by the use of good combination. Considerable holding was occurring and odd personal fouls on both sides. Manson was playing well, while Glickman was leading the M. A. A. A. In the last few minutes, McGill succeeded better with combination plays, and scored.

Halftime score; McGill 10, M. A. A. A 9.

The second half opened fast. Mendelsohn secured the ball, and passed to Hay who scored from under the basket. Two minutes later Hay scored again on a long shot from centre. After that, McGill continued to score consistently till the end of the game. Manson proved particularly accurate on his shots and also played his position excellently. The whole McGill team was playing hard, and checking very surely The defence disposed of M A A A attacks cleverly, and supported the forwards well. The Winged Wheelers played well, but seemed absolutely unable to find the basket on frequent tries. Toward the end of the period play slacked slightly ,and scoring diminished.

Final Score 40—13 for McGill.

END FIRST ROUND INDOOR BASEBALL

Second Round Will Commence in January.

Last evening saw the completion of the first round of the Class Indoor Baseball League. Of eighteen teams that started off, eleven are still left in the running. Very few high scores were made in any game, and out of the twenty-seven contests staged in the first round seven were won by the close margin of one run, and two were tied.

As the second round is to be played under the elimination system, seven innings will be staged in each game. There will be five games played this round, one team drawing a bye. This round will start after the holidays on Jan. 5th and the schedule will be published in to-morrow's Daily.

To-day and to-morrow a general practice will be held at the High School between six and seven p.m., for all first and second year men. Attendance will be taken and everybody intending to try for a place on the City League teams this year should be out.

The final standing of the first round is as follows:

RATIFY TRIP TO U.S. FOR HOCKEY TEAM

Tank Meets With Brown and Columbia Approved.

S. COUNCIL MEETS.

Training Table Arranged for Men on Senior Hockey Team.

An effort was made at the meeting of the Students' Council yesterday afternoon to finish up the balance of the business for the current term. It was the last meeting for the year and as such was the final session for the various Faculty Representatives who hereafter make way for their recently-elected successors.

The various items of student interest dealt with include the following:—

Hockey.

Permission was readily given the Hockey Club to send a team to Boston to participate in three games in that city. The prospects for the trip are very pleasing both financially and from the point of view of competitive sport. The team will leave Montreal December 28th.

Swimming.

Permission was given the Swimming Club to send its squad to compete in aquatics with several American colleges. The following men and two others to be picked were granted permission to participate:—Vernot, Fisk, Laidley, J. Ross, Parsons, Laishley, Mr. E. Vernot will accompany the team.

Their schedule is as follows:—

Saturday, Dec. 17th—at Brown, Providence, R. I.

Monday, Dec. 19th—Columbia, N. Y City.

Wednesday, Dec. 21st—Polo vs. N. Y. A. C., N. Y. City.

Hockey.

As the senior hockey practice is scheduled to be held at 6.30 p.m., a request wa made that a training table be set up for the three nights of practice each week. The number of men thus provided for was necessarily limited to eleven including the coach and manager. This is not altogether a training table, but is especially needed to keep the senior squad together, and to make certain that the inconvenience of the practice hour will not keep any senior man away on account of having to miss the dinner hour at home.

General.

Under the circumstances of this year when the Council is exerting every effort to curtail expenses, the suggestion was thrown out that in the case of exhibition games out of town, unless the trip could be covered by a guarantee that it would be financially self-supporting, the Council would not be able to sanction it. An application by the Wrestlers to go to Cornell later in the year was deferred on this account as the financially guarantee was inadequate.

SKATING PARTY TO BE HELD SOON

Newfoundland Club Sets Date at Jan. 5th.

It was decided last night at a meeting of the Social Committee of the Newfoundland Club, that a skating party be held on Thursday, Jan. 5th. This announcement takes many back to the happy times spent on the ice last year under the auspices of the club. This year the skating party hopes to be even a greater success than those in previous years.

The tickets are now available and may be obtained from the various faculty representatives: Arts, R. H. LeMessurier, Plat. 1443; Science, D. H. Ellis, Up. 3093; Med., L. J. Jackman, Up. 3349 W.; Law, J. H. G. Way, Up. 290; Com., C. F. Horwood, Up. 290, and Theology, E. W. Mouland, Up. 290.

Each member is kindly urged to secure his tickets from the above-named men, at the very earliest opportunity. If there are any new members who would likely be unable to secure partners for the night, they would do well to 'phone the chairman of the Social Committee, R. H. LeMessurier, and arrangements will be made that every man may have the company of the fair sex.

After the programme at the rink, it is the intention that the club will proceed to the Edinburgh Cafe, where refreshments will be served and the "light fantastic," indulged if so desired. As this is the first opportunity that the Club has had this year to have an outing of this kind, there is every prospect for an enjoyable time.

McGILL MAN ATTACKED IN RESTAURANT.

and robbery was the motive of his attack.

John Kerry, a McGill Law graduate was present in the restaurant at the time the affair took place and proceeded to the station in order to go through the necessary formalities. He will appear in the Court this morning to prefer the charge against the prisoner.

Rochester was allowed to leave the hospital in the early hours of the morning when it was found that the scalp wounds were only surface wounds but he is badly enough injured to give him an unpleasant time for the next few weeks.

ROMANCE.

He met her in the meadow,
While the sun was sinking low,
And they walked along together,
In the evening's afterglow.

She waited, while so patiently,
He lowered down the bars,
Her soft eyes turned upon him,
As radiant as the stars.

But she neither smiled nor thanked him,
Because she knew not how:
For he was but a farmer's lad,
And she — a Jersey cow!

Tennis comes next with 312, and football a close third with 293. It is surprising that such a large number of school boys have become acquainted with the great game before coming to college, for it is not played on back lots to the same extent as baseball, but, being a more highly organized game, is found almost exclusively in the schools. Out of such a large number, nearly 30 per cent of the entering class, good material can surely be found if the proper facilities can be obtained for accommodating and teaching those who wish to continue playing it through college.

Basketball can claim only 212, with track numbering 203. Slightly more than 10 per cent of the Freshmen have rowed, 108, and it is doubtful if many of them have engaged in racing.

Boxing, 70; swimming, 65; handball, 56; wrestling, 44, and soccer, 38, follow in that order, and the list closes with golf, 23, a game which does not claim many players before college age but which will have its recruits after graduation. Ice hockey has 14 and lacrosse 2, both games which are more popular north of the Canadian border.

Fencing does not appear on the list at all. This fine exercise and interesting sport appeals to men of more mature years.

If these figures are totaled up it will be found that most boys have played a couple of games at least (average, 1.8), and doubtless a few have practiced many more. The four years at Pennsylvania gives the greatest chance, and usually the last chance, to develop and perfect the games already learned at school and to learn new ones which can be practiced after college days are over.

SYSTEM IN FIRST YEAR IS DEBATED

Delta Sigma Compares Compulsory and Elective Plan.

The Compulsory system vs. the Elective system in the first year course was the subject of the debate held yesterday by the Delta Sigma Society, between the first and second years. The first year, represented by Miss Marjory Grainger, and Miss Marion Hoffman-Smith, were of the opinion that students in the first year should be accorded the privilege of choosing their own courses. Miss Massey-Bayley and Miss Dorothea Hay, from second year, supported a compulsory system, and were adjudged the winners by Miss Trenholme, Dr. Thompson and Mr. Noad, who very kindly acted as judges.

Miss Massey-Bayley for the compulsory system, spoke first, and very carefully divided her material under six headings, three of which she dealt with herself. The freshmen, she said, on entering a university, are as a rule too young to know their own minds. They are not properly capable of choosing their own courses. Also there is a very wide divergence among them of standard education, and sometimes even of race, which must be assimilated by the university. The attitude of most university authorities is at present in favor of the compulsory system, and the weight of their judgment must be reckoned on that side.

Miss Grainger spoke for the selective system in first year. The course in the freshman year, she said, is so similar to the last year in high school that on its completion the student is no better fitted for choice than before. Assimilation of different standards could take place as well under the selective system as under the compulsory, and the greatest drawback to the latter seemed to be the fact that a great deal of time was spent on subjects which did not interest the student and would be of no use in after life.

Miss Dorothy Hay then spoke for the second year. The real aim of education is not to store the mind with facts, but to discipline and train it, she said. The interest of a subject rests largely with the student herself. If she tries to be interested, she can usually succeed. Every subject in the course has its own use in the training of the mind, and there are many subjjects which are absolutely necessary to a proper development of the student, such as, for example, physical education and English composition. If we are all going to be highly trained specialists, wtih no other interests there will be no common basis on which we can meef. We all need a broad, general base in common.

Miss Hoffman-Smith was the next speaker. She began by observing that all men are different, and have different mentalities. Therefore a course can not be drawn up suitable for everyone. The twentieth century is, too, an age in which the specialist alone achieves success. The jack-of-all trades has no place. The elective system is in force at Oxford and Cambridge, and the group system, which she described as a cross between compulsion and free choice of subjects, is the one used at Harvard.

Miss Massey-Bayley endeavoured to refute her opponents' points, giving, as examples of universities where compulsion is, to a greater or less degree, exercised, the great American Universities of Yale, Princeton and Harvard.

Miss Trenholme, in presenting the decision of the judges, gave some helpful criticism, which should be of use to future debaters, both this year and next.

course of time, will be used as scholarships to be known as the Macdonald Memorial Scholarships.

The announcement was also made that the first competition for the two Peterson Memorial Scholarships of $180. each was held at the beginning of the session, and the successful competitors were Mr. Taylor and Mr. Archer.

A number of gifts were reported by the Library Committee, the chief of which was the sum of $500. from the family of Dr. Francis McLennan, to provide postal library services to graduates of the affiliated theological colleges and other clergy in localities not supplied with libraries. In connection with the Library School which has hitherto been held in the summer, Corporation approved of a recommendation from the Library Committee that this school should henceforth be held in the winter and be carried on regularly throughout the session.

The thing that goes the farthest
Toward making life worth while;
That costs the least, and does the
Most, is just a pleasant smile.
The smile that bubbles from the heart,
That loves its fellow men,
Will drive away the cloud of gloom
And coax the sun again;
It's full of worth and goodness, too,
With many kindness blent;
It's worth a million dollars—and
Doesn't cost a cent.
